MEDIA RELEASE

ADELAIDE CENTRAL MARKET - ADELAIDE'S FOOD ICON AGAIN THIS CHRISTMAS

Christmas foods are a wonderful way to celebrate the holiday season. Whether you choose a traditional meal with a juicy turkey and a scrumptious pudding or you opt for a more modern meal with the family, the holiday season is a glorious time for exploring taste sensations and possibilities with family and friends.

For over 140 years, the Adelaide Central Market has continued to provide the people of South Australian with the freshest and largest range of produce, and is such a special place to very many – families, foodies, chef's, tourists, kids, city residents...just to name a few!

Consisting of 85 stallholders under 1 roof, the Market offers an extensive range of fresh food including fruit and vegetables, meat and poultry, seafood, gourmet cheeses, breads, pastries, coffee, condiments, and so much more. People love to return again and again!

"We are so lucky in South Australia to be spoilt for choice when it comes to food" stated Franz Knoll, President of the Central Market Traders Association.

"The Central Market continues to remain Adelaide's premium food hub and a favourite to many thousands, especially over the festive period, offering the best and freshest produce" said Mr Knoll.

So whether it's the traditional ham that you're after, the enormous range of summer berries on offer, or one of the many hundreds of cheeses to choose from....you'll find it all at the Adelaide Central Market.
